Tutoring Individuals or Group Study Policy

Individual tutors and students, or study groups, may use the tables and chairs provided for the public as long as the activity does not interfere with the use of the facility by other patrons.

Tutors and their students may use space set aside for specific purposes, such as, the Teen Room and the Local History Room with staff approval.

Tutors and their students and study groups may not re-arrange library furniture.

Tutors and their students and study groups must comply with all Library policies including the Patron Code of Conduct.
